PROVEN EXPERIENCE. PLATFORM AGNOSTIC.

Advances in technology provide new opportunities for learning & development.

Over the past 30 years, Eagle Productivity Solutions has emerged as the training world's expert in achieving adoption through behavior change. We work with your business to meet objectives and exceed expectations by changing what people do—not just changing what they know.

WE CHANGE WHAT PEOPLE DO

The ever-advancing digital work environment requires businesses to adapt their learning and development practices to align with new technology. Our methods facilitate skill development in:

life sciences   higher ed   consumer goods and services   manufacturing

Left column (top)

We align skill development with business impact for the best possible ROI.

Training is more than changing what people know; it's changing what they do.

Through methodology rooted in human psychology, Eagle has discovered the key to effecting behavioral change. From start to finish, our development process integrates key strategies proven to achieve high adoption.

Our position is simple:
If behavior doesn't change, the training didn't work

Our value is clear:
We know what works, and that is what we deliver.

STORY-BASED TRAINING

Science behind stories
Because our training exercises are grounded in realistic scenarios, skill development is augmented by meaning and relevance. This experiential way of learning new patterns cements circuitry in users' brains so that behaviors are easily recalled in similar situations on the job.

Content-Mirrored Instruction & Emulation
Learn by doing
Our trainers guide students step-by-step through scenario-based exercises. Students emulate the behavior they are expected to learn, and emulation is the most successful way of acquiring new skills.

45% of adults "tune out" if content isn't relevant to them or their experience
